Dear Landowner:

This spring, the New York Power Authority will be performing maintenance on our transmission line that runs west to east across the state and abuts your property. This maintenance will consist of the replacement of the overhead transmission line shield wire, which is installed at the highest point on the tower structure. The new shield wire will be installed using helicopters to minimize the disturbance to the ground near the structures. This work will be performed during daylight hours from mid-March to the end of April by JW Didado Contractors, under the supervision of NYPA engineers and safety experts.

Should you have any questions or wish to share your concerns regarding our transmission facilities maintenance program, please contact me directly at 716-286-6923 or at karen.cline@nypa.gov.

Sincerely,

Karen W. Cline
